

PROMISING PRACTICES FROM THE FIELD

Tobacco Control Strategies for Priority Populations

Dr. Hilda Davis-Carroll and Dr. Lavern Holyfield in the discussion forum, Black Folks Don't Use Quitlines!

NNTPP Stakeholder Michael Stoops (Acting Director, National Coalition for the Homeless) speaking during the closing plenary

Heaster Wheeler, Executive Director, Detroit Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), giving a speech during the closing plenary

NNTPP Stakeholders Rev. Larry J. Arce (Fresno Rescue Mission), Robert H. Anderson (Prevention Research Center, WVU), Gail Schiemann (Alaska Tobacco Prevention and Control Program) and Joie Brown (Rural Alaska Community Action Program) answer questions during their session, Tobacco Use in Low SES Communities: Recommendations for Programming

Dr. Greg Holzman (Chief Medical Officer, State of MI) presenting during the opening plenary

Kara Endsley (NAATEN Consultant), Rev. James C. Wade (African Methodist Episcopal Church and NAATEN Stakeholder), and Rev. Elaine P. Walters (New Me Ministries)

NAATEN Stakeholder Dr. Paul Underwood (Association of Black Cardiologists) leading a round table session

Dr. Stephen Hansen sharing insights on tobacco-free prisons

NNTPP Stakeholder Robert H. Anderson (Prevention Research Center, WVU) talking with NAATEN Stakeholders Rev. James C. Wade (African Methodist Episcopal Church) and Rev. James L. Patterson (Partnership for African American Churches)

NNTPP Stakeholder and HEC Board Member Dr. Scott Chavez (Vice President, National Commission on Correctional Health Care) welcoming conference attendees

NAATEN Stakeholder Earl Fowlkes Jr (International Federation of Black Prides) speaking about his experience visiting quitline vendors

Conference attendees peruse poster presentations

NNTPP Stakeholder Joie Brown (Rural Alaska Community Action Program) presenting on Tobacco Education and Cessation for Alaskans

Brenda Vasser (National Pan-Hellenic Council) answering questions during Utilizing Grassroots Organizations

Pastor Lee Shaw (St. Gabriel Church of God in Christ) with NNTPP Stakeholder Marva Brooks (Wisconsin Dept. of Health and Family Services, Tobacco Prevention and Control Section) participating in a round table session

NAATEN Stakeholder Joan Bundley (National Black Nurses Association) moderating Engaging Health Professionals in Tobacco Control Initiatives for African Americans and Low SES Populations

NAATEN Program Coordinator Cynthia Robinson speaking during the opening plenary

NNTPP Program Director Janet Porter addressing conference attendees

Health Education Council Consultant Tamatha Thomas-Haase moderating Weaving Leadership, Policy and Needs Assessment into the Strategic Planning Process

MANY THANKS TO
ALL
CONFERENCE
ATTENDEES!